Wellbeing@School:

Building a safe and caring school climate that deters bullying

Step One: Planning and preparation

The two key parts of a whole school approach are:

- a way of thinking about schools as a multidimensional and interactive system
- a process for change in schools that involves all community members working together.

INTRODUCTION

The Wellbeing@School website aims to support New Zealand schools to create a safe and respectful climate that enables learning to flourish. Wellbeing@School uses systems thinking and self-review processes to support school communities to consider how their school social and emotional climate might be enhanced, and bullying behaviours diminished, in ways that build students' wellbeing, skills and strategies. This site is designed around a self-review process and provides schools with free access to two tools (a survey for students and a school self-review tool for staff).

Step Two: Gathering Data

Keypoints about using the Wellbeing@School tools to collect data

- Use the W@S tools together to build a picture of students and staffs view of school practice
- The W@S tools can be used to provide needs assessment and baseline data
- Self Review and needs assessment data is best gathered from more than one source
- This data can be used to start discussions and raise awareness about how different groups view the school
- Develop a plan for how data will be collected over time

The Teacher Survey

Survey process

- Collects data on teachers' perspective about school life
- Completed anonymously
- Is a subset of the questions in the School Self Review Tool (SSRT)

The teacher survey....

- data is used by the review team to complete the SSRT

Wellbeing@School
Teacher Survey

⇒ This survey is a hardcopy version for reading and discussion.
Please complete the actual survey online.
The Wellbeing@School Teacher Survey is for ALL staff who teach students.

→ Information

This survey explores how well your school promotes a safe and caring social climate. This survey asks questions about:

- school-wide leadership, climate, policies, and practices
- how teachers teach, and what happens in classrooms
- student culture and behaviour, and
- how connections are made with the school community.

This survey is part of the Wellbeing@School School Self-Review Tool (SSRT). The combined set of data from this Teacher Survey will be used by a review team to complete an SSRT for your school. The aim of the SSRT (and Teacher Survey) is to support schools to review different layers of school practice to identify areas of strength and possible next steps that could be taken to promote a safe and caring climate.

There are two types of questions in this survey:

1) Some questions ask how strongly you agree or disagree with a statement. Four answer options are provided. These are:

- Strongly disagree (this is not in place OR never or hardly ever happens at this school)
- Disagree (this might happen sometimes OR this varies a lot across this school)
- Agree (this is in place OR this is true for many staff, classes, or students)
- Strongly agree (there is a shared view OR this is true for all staff, classes, or students).

2) Other questions ask how often things happen. Five answer options are provided:

- Never or hardly ever
- 1 or 2 times a year
- 1 or 2 times a month
- 1 or 2 times a week
- Almost every day

Please answer every question. If you are not sure about an answer, please choose the option that is closest to your experience at school or how you feel. Think about what your school is like this term when you are answering these questions.

This survey is voluntary and anonymous; no one at your school will know how you responded.

The School Self Review Tool (SSRT)

Suggested SSRT steps

- The school assembles a review team (e.g., school leaders, teachers, students, BoT rep) and introduces the W@S process to all staff at a professional learning session
- All teaching staff invited to complete the shorter anonymous Teacher Survey.
- Teacher Survey results then used by the review team to complete one copy of the SSRT online.
- Online report produced from the SSRT to show different aspects of school life. A summary report from the Teacher Survey is also available.

The SSRT process...is designed to involve all staff and encourage debate and self-review

Step Three: Plan Steps

The W@S reports explore four different dimensions (aspects of school life) that the research literature suggests work together to create a safe and caring climate which deters bullying. These aspects are:

- Whole school climate and practices
- Teaching and learning
- Community partnerships
- Pro social student culture and strategies

A fifth aspect explores the extent to which aggressive and bullying behaviours occur at school. This aspect is called

- Aggressive student culture

Wellbeing@School:

Building a safe and caring school climate that deters bullying

Step Three: Plan Steps

There are three different types of report for W@S. Each has a slightly different purpose. They are:

- School Overview report (School at a Glance) – aims to give a starting point to exploring data in more depth
- Aspect reports are produced for the Student Survey only. Aspects at a Glance provides an overall picture and Aspects in Detail provides detail of single aspects
- Item reports provide a summary of how groups of teachers or students responded to each survey statement.

School-wide climate and practices

This aspect explores students' perceptions of whether a safe and caring climate is modelled through school-wide culture and practices.

Sub-aspect: Caring and collaborative school

I feel I belong at school.

At school, people accept me for who I am.

At school, we celebrate the good things students do.

Teachers and students care about each other.

Everyone thinks our school values are important (like respect for others).

Students have a say in what happens at school.

Teachers ask for our ideas about how students can get on better with each other.

Developing an Action Plan

Two W@S resources are designed to assist in this. These are the:

W@S Action plan template: This Word Document is designed for schools to adapt. It provides a format to support schools to consider goals, actions, resources, and how change will be assessed.

W@S Next step modules: These resources are designed to support schools to plan next steps. Each module offers suggestions for next step activities linked to each W@S aspect.

Step Four: Take Action

Research shows that the processes schools use to implement change are a key factor in determining the success of these changes.

Key actions

- Implement new actions thoroughly
- Involve the whole community
- Ensure staff, students, and the community have adequate learning opportunities
- Monitor progress and using formative feedback
- Make on-going changes if necessary.

Wellbeing@School:

Building a safe and caring school climate that deters bullying

Step Five: Review

Step 5 is about reviewing and reflecting on progress.

During Step 5, schools re-use the W@S tools to collect data to review actions. It is suggested that a formal review of progress happens annually, and a major review after 3-5 years
